...Jasmine Green Tea with Lemon: second price at WorldTeaExpo2006

Jasmine Green Tea with Lemon

We've paired this wonderful Jasmine infused Green Tea with just a touch of lemon and organic cane sugar to create this unique and refreshing tea. While many ancient cultures prized Jasmine as an aphrodisiac and confidence booster, modern science shows our 320 mg of anti-oxidant flavonoids provide real benefits to every aspect of health.

Herbal Chrysanthemum

We've selected premium chrysanthemum flowers from Taiwan and brewed them with just a touch of organic cane sugar. The result is a buttery-smooth, naturally caffeine-free tea that is light and refreshing. Throughout Asia, many people drink Herbal Chrysanthemum to harmonize the Yin and Yang on hot days.

High-Mountain Oolong

With its light body and heady finish, this "Jin Shuen" Oolong from the high-mountains of Taiwan creates a tea both fragrant and flavorful. Half-way between green and black tea, each bottle of our sugar-free Oolong contains 312 mg of naturally protective antioxidant flavonoids to detoxify the body and clarify the mind.

Japanese Green Sencha

Often called the "Shogkn of Green Teas", Cha Dao's Sencha uses only whole-leaf, JAS organic tea from the Shizuoka Prefecture of Japan. This mighty leaf puts over 325 mg of powerful antioxidant flavonoids in every bottle and many Japanese drink it daily to increase the flow of the body's natural energy (Chi). Sencha's clean, clear taste pairs wonderfully with many rich foods, or can be enjoyed on its own.

We never use any artificial flavors or preservatives in our teas, so please keep them refrigerated. Those tiny specs you see in the bottle are there because we use whole-leaf tea to brew Cha Dao, not processed tea powders or concentrates. They're our guarantee you're getting The True Taste of Tea™.

We use plastic bottles because they're lighter and consume less fossil fuel to transport and recycle. Since they are unbreakable, you can also take them to places glass can't go. While our teas are great both hot and cold, please don't put the bottles in your microwave.
